

A close-up, high-resolution image of a terrazzo floor. The surface is composed of a light gray matrix with numerous small, irregularly shaped chips of white, dark gray, and black stone or glass embedded throughout. The chips vary in size, typically between 1 and 3 millimeters. The overall appearance is a dense, speckled pattern with a fine, polished texture.

TERRAZZOMANUFATUR
TM2701 Grigio Bianco Cene
geschliffen